Big breakfast

What's the next Big Thing in the world of breakfast? If the trendsetters are to be believed, it's healthy granola, muesli's cooler cousin. It's already on the menu at hip all-day eateries like Acorn House and decent versions are now popping up in supermarkets, too. If you haven't tried it yet, check out cult brand and Nibbles' fave, LoveDean. Previously a little difficult to get hold of, it's now popping up all over the place and might appear in Waitrose next year. The original variety is a tad sweet - go for the new 'Lite' option, while crossing your fingers that the rumoured organic line also comes to fruition.
